FROM THE DIRECTOR OF MUSIC

We are pleased to be back at Snape Maltings for our second concert of the season. Having performed Handel's Messiah last November tonight we sing another great oratorio, The Creation by Haydn.

The Creation was composed by Haydn following his two visits to London, when he had noted the amount of choral singing and, in particular, that of Messiah. Written late in his life this is one of Haydn's best known works, an affirmation of the greatness of the universe and the first oratorio written in two languages, English and German.

The Choir returns to Snape Maltings in November this year for a performance of Bach's Christmas Oratorio.

Edmond Fivet

FROM THE CHAIRMAN

Welcome to this evening's performance of Haydn's choral masterpiece, The Creation.

Aldeburgh Music Club is indebted to the generous help and support of over 120 Patrons, to our corporate sponsors Big House Holidays and Suffolk Cottage Holidays, and for many donations and gifts.

Our next concert, 'The Glory of Vivaldi', will be at Orford Church on Saturday 21 May at 7.30pm. I hope that you will be able to join us.

Joseph Haydn 1732 – 1809

The Creation

Haydn completed what he considered his greatest work, Die Schöpfung (The Creation) in 1797, at the age of 65. The initial inspiration for the work seems to have originated in England some two or three years earlier, during the second of Haydn's visits to London. Haydn had been greatly impressed by performances of Handel's Messiah and Israel in Egypt. The impresario Salomon apparently handed Haydn a libretto, by an unnamed author, on the subject of Creation, rumoured to have been intended originally for Handel. Recent scholarship suggests that the author of the libretto was in fact Charles Jennens, who provided the texts of many of Handel's oratorios. Haydn took the libretto back to Vienna and handed it over to Gottfried van Swieten, director of the court library in Vienna. An amateur composer and former Viennese ambassador, Swieten had introduced Vienna to the works of Bach and Handel. He organized a group of noblemen, the Gesellschaft der Associierten, to present concerts of large-scale choral works: these were the performances for which Mozart's arrangements of Messiah and other Handel works were made. Swieten had earlier tried to persuade Haydn to compose a work "in the manner and spirit of Handel", and was excited by the possibilities of the libretto delivered to Haydn:

"I recognized at once that such an exalted subject would give Haydn the opportunity I had long desired, to show the whole compass of his profound accomplishments and to express the full power of his inexhaustible genius; I therefore encouraged him to take the work in hand".

A close collaboration between Swieten and Haydn followed. Swieten condensed and translated the English text, which had its origin in the Book of Genesis and the Book of Psalms from the King James Bible, Milton's Paradise Lost and James Thomson's 1730 poem The Creation. He also provided Haydn with suggestions for details of musical treatment of the text, worked closely with him on revisions, and arranged for the first performance. The latter, under the auspices of Swieten's Gesellschaft der Associierten, was held at the palace of Prince Joseph zu Schwarzenberg in April 1798 for a select audience. A Swedish diplomat, Frederick Samuel Silverstolpe, attended one of the rehearsals and left the following account:

“The first performance impressed the Viennese aristocracy as never before and two additional performances were immediately organized. The larger public had to wait until the following year to hear the great work: a poster advertising the first public performance at the Burgtheater in Vienna included a request to the audience, in Haydn’s name, to refrain from demanding encores of individual numbers, and a veritable riot ensued as crowds battled for tickets and seats.”

Annual performances at Christmas and during Lent quickly became a Viennese tradition, and within a few years of its first performance, Die Schöpfung enjoyed enormous success in England, France, Germany, Scandinavia, Spain, Italy, Russia and America. It has been said that perhaps no other piece of great music has enjoyed such immediate and universal acceptance, crossing political and religious boundaries.

The oratorio is divided into the three parts typical of English oratorio. Parts 1 and 2 recount the six days of the biblical Creation. The beginning of each day is announced in a secco recitative, followed by an accompanied recitative and/or aria evoking the picturesque elements, and finally a chorus offering praise and thanks. The story is told by three soloists: the archangels Gabriel, Uriel and Raphael. Part 3 is spent in the Garden of Eden on the seventh day, the day of rest. The soprano and bass soloists become Adam and Eve, blissfully content before their fall from grace. The oratorio ends with a joyous chorus of praise.

Haydn draws on an expanded orchestra to paint elaborate sound pictures of the colourful libretto: the depiction of chaos and the creation of light; the storm, wind and rain of the second day; the sun, moon and stars of the fourth day; and the animals of both land and sea of the fifth day. These sound images, together with exquisite arias and jubilant choruses, combine to astonish and delight audiences today as they did 200 years ago.

MUSIC

The First Day

Orchestra

The Representation of Chaos

Raphael

In the beginning God created the heaven and the earth; and the earth was without form, and void; and darkness was upon the face of the deep.

Choir

And the Spirit of God moved on the face of the waters;
And God said: Let there be Light; and there was Light.

Uriel

And God saw the Light, that it was good: and God divided the Light from the darkness.

Uriel and Choir

Now vanish before the holy beams the gloomy dismal shades of dark;
the first of days appears.
Disorder yields to order fair the place.
Affrighted fled hell's spirits black in throngs;
down they sink in the deep of abyss to endless night.

Choir

Despairing, cursing rage attends their rapid fall.
A new created world springs up at God's command.

The Second Day

Raphael

And God made the firmament, and divided the waters which were under the firmament from the waters which were above the firmament, and it was so.

Outrageous storms now dreadful arose; as chaff by the winds are impelled the clouds. By heaven's fire the sky is enflamed, and awful rolled the thunders on high. Now from the floods in steams ascend reviving showers of rain, the dreary wasteful hail, the light and flaky snow.

Gabriel and Choir

The marvellous work beholds amazed the glorious hierarchy of heaven;
and to the ethereal vaults resound the praise of God, and of the second day.

Choir

And to the ethereal vaults resound the praise of God, and of the second day.

The Third Day

Raphael

And God said: Let the waters under the heaven be gathered together unto one place, and let the dry land appear; and it was so.
And God called the dry land Earth, and the gathering of waters called he Seas; and God saw that it was good.

Raphael

Rolling in foaming billows, uplifted, roars the boisterous sea.
Mountains and rocks now emerge, their tops into the clouds ascend.
Through the open plains outstretching wide in serpent error rivers flow.
Softly purling glides on through silent vales the limpid brook.

Gabriel

And God said: Let the earth bring forth grass, the herb yielding seed, and the fruit tree yielding fruit after his kind, whose seed is in itself upon the earth; and it was so.

Gabriel

With verdure clad the fields appear delightful to the ravished sense; by flowers sweet and gay enhanced is the charming sight.

Here vent their fumes the fragrant herbs,
here shoots the healing plant.
With copious fruit the expanded boughs are hung.

In leafy arches twine the shady groves;
O'er lofty hills majestic forests wave.

Uriel

And the heavenly host proclaimed the third day, praising God and saying:

Choir

Awake the harp, the lyre awake!
In shout and joy your voices raise!
In triumph sing the mighty Lord!
For he the heavens and earth has clothed in stately dress.

The Fourth Day

Uriel

And God said: Let there be lights in the firmament of heaven to divide the day from the night, and to give light upon the earth; and let them be for signs and for seasons, and for days, and for years.
He made the stars also.

Uriel

In splendour bright is rising now the sun and darts his rays; an amorous, joyful, happy spouse, a giant proud and glad to run his measured course.
With softer beams and milder light steps on the silver moon through silent night. The space immense of the azure sky innumerable host of radiant orbs adorns, and the sons of God announced the fourth day in song divine, proclaiming thus his power:

Choir

The heavens are telling the glory of God.
The wonder of his work displays the firmament.

Gabriel, Uriel, Raphael

To day that is coming speaks it the day;
The night that is gone to following night.

Choir

The heavens are telling the glory of God,
the wonder of his work displays the
firmament.

Gabriel, Uriel, Raphael

In all the lands resounds the word, never unperceived, ever understood.

Choir

The heavens are telling the glory of God.
The wonder of his work displays the
firmament.

The Fifth Day

Gabriel

And God said: Let the waters bring forth abundantly the moving creature that hath life, and fowl that may fly above the earth in the open firmament of heaven.

Gabriel

On mighty pens uplifted soars the eagle aloft, and cleaves the sky in swiftest flight to the blazing sun.
His welcome bids to morn the merry lark,
and cooing calls the tender dove his mate.
From every bush and grove resound
the nightingale's delightful notes.
No grief affected yet her breast, nor to a mournful tale were tuned her soft enchanting lays.

MUSIC

Raphael

And God created great whales, and every living creature that moveth, and God blessed them, saying: Be fruitful all, and multiply; ye winged tribes, be multiplied and sing on every tree.

Multiply, ye finny tribes, and fill each watery deep.

Be fruitful, grow and multiply!

And in your God and Lord rejoice!

Raphael

And the angels struck their immortal harps, and the wonders of the fifth day sung.

Gabriel

Most beautiful appear, with verdure young adorned the gently sloping hills.

Their narrow, sinuous veins distil in crystal drops the fountain fresh and bright.

Uriel

In lofty circles plays, and hovers through the sky the cheerful host of birds.

And in the flying whirl the glittering plumes are dyed, as rainbows by the sun.

Raphael

See flashing through the wet in throngèd swarms the fry on thousand ways around.

Upheavèd from the deep the immense Leviathan sports on the foaming wave.

Gabriel, Uriel, Raphael

How many are thy works, O God!

Who may their numbers tell?

Who? O God!

Who may their numbers tell?

Gabriel, Uriel, Raphael and choir

The Lord is great, and great his might.

His glory lasts for ever and for evermore.

The Sixth Day

Raphael

And God said: Let the earth bring forth the living creature after his kind, cattle, and creeping thing, and beasts of the earth after their kind.

Strait opening her fertile womb, the earth obeyed the word, and teemed creatures numberless, in perfect forms and fully grown. Cheerful roaring stands the tawny lion. In sudden leaps the flexible tiger appears. The nimble stag bears up his branching head. With flying mane and fiery look, impatient neighs the sprightly steed. The cattle in herds already seeks his food on fields and meadows green.

And o'er the ground, as plants, are spread the fleecy, meek and bleating flock. Unnumbered as the sands in whirl arose the host of insects. In long dimensions creeps with sinuous trace the worm.

Raphael

Now heaven in fullest glory shone; earth smiles in all her rich attire.

The room of air with fowl is filled, the water swelled by shoals of fish;

by heavy beasts the ground is trod.

But all the work was not complete.

There wanted yet that wonderful being, that grateful should God's power admire, with heart and voice his goodness praise.

Uriel

And God created man in his own image.

In the image of God created he him.

Male and female created he them.

He breathed into his nostrils the breath of life, and man became a living soul.

Uriel

In native worth and honour clad, with beauty, courage, strength adorned, to heaven erect and tall he stands a man, the Lord and King of nature all.

The large and archèd front sublime of wisdom deep declares the seat, and in his eyes with brightness shines the soul,
the breath and image of his God.

With fondness leans upon his breast the partner for him formed, a woman, fair and graceful spouse.
Her softly smiling virgin looks, of flowery spring the mirror, bespeak him love and joy and bliss.

Raphael

And God saw everything that he had made, and behold, it was very good; and the heavenly choir in song divine thus closed the sixth day.

Choir

Achievèd is the glorious work, the Lord beholds it, and is pleased.
In lofty strains let us rejoice!
Our song let be the praise of God!

Gabriel, Uriel, Raphael

On thee each living soul awaits;
from thee, O Lord, they beg their meat.
Thou openest thy hand and sated all they are.

But as to them thy face is hid, with sudden terror they are struck.
Thou takest their breath away;
they vanish into dust.

Thou let'st thy breath go forth again,
and life with vigour fresh returns.
Revivèd earth unfolds new force and new delights.

Choir

Achievèd is the glorious work.
Our song let be the praise of God!
Glory to his Name for ever,
He sole on high exalted reigns.
Alleluia!

Short pause

The Seventh Day In the Garden of Eden

Uriel

In rosy mantle appears, by tunes sweet awaked, the morning young and fair.
From the celestial vaults pure harmony descends on ravished earth.

Behold the blissful pair, where hand in hand they go! Their flaming looks express what feels the grateful heart.

A louder praise of God their lips shall utter soon.
Then let our voices ring, united with their song!

Adam and Eve

By thee with bliss, O bounteous Lord,
the heaven and earth are stored.
This world, so great, so wonderful,
thy mighty hand has framed.

Choir

For ever blessèd be his power
His name be ever magnified!

Adam

Of stars the fairest, O how sweet thy smile at dawning morn!
How brighten'st thou, O sun, the day,
thou eye and soul of all!

MUSIC

Choir

Proclaim in your extended course the glorious power and might of God.

Eve

And thou that rulest the silent night, and all ye starry host, spread wide and everywhere, spread wide his praise in choral songs about.

Adam

Ye strong and cumbrous, strong elements who ceaseless changes make, ye dusky mists and dewy steams who rise and fall through the air:

Choir

Resound the praise of God our Lord!
Great is his name, and great his might.

Eve

Ye purling fountains tune his praise, and wave your tops, ye pines!
Ye plants exhale, ye flowers breathe at him your balmy scent!

Adam

Ye that on mountains stately tread and ye that lowly creep, ye birds that sing at heaven's gate, and ye that swim the stream.

Choir

Ye living souls extol the Lord!
Him celebrate, him magnify!

Adam and Eve

Ye valleys, hills and shady woods, our raptured notes ye heard;
from morn to eve you shall repeat our grateful hymns of praise.

Choir

Hail bounteous Lord! Almighty, hail!
Thy word called forth this wondrous frame.
The heaven and earth thy power adore,
we praise thee now and evermore.

Adam

Our duty we performed now, in offering up to God our thanks.
Now follow me dear partner of my life!
Thy guide I'll be; and every step pours new delights into our breast, shows wonders everywhere. Then may'st thou feel and know the high degree of bliss the Lord allotted us, and with devoted heart his bounty celebrate.
Come, follow me, thy guide I'll be.

Eve

O thou for whom I am! My help, my shield, my all! Thy will is law to me.
So God our Lord ordains, and from obedience grows my pride and happiness.

Adam

Graceful consort!
At thy side softly fly the golden hours.
Every moment brings new rapture;
every care is put to rest.

Eve

Spouse adored! At thy side purest joys o'erflow the heart.
Life and all I am, all I am is thine, my reward thy love shall be.

Adam and Eve

The dew dropping morn,
O how she quickens all!
The coolness of ev'n,
O how she all restores!

How grateful is of fruits the savour sweet!
How pleasing is of fragrant bloom the smell!

But without thee, what is to me the morning
dew, the breath of ev'n,
the sav'ry fruits, the fragrant bloom?

With thee is every joy enhanced;
with thee delight is ever new;
with thee is life incessant bliss;
thine it whole shall be.

Uriel

O happy pair, and always happy yet, if not, misled by false conceit, ye strive at more as granted is, and more to know as know ye should!

Soloists and Choir with Claire Hemingway
Sing the Lord, ye voices all!

Utter thanks, all ye his works.

Celebrate his power and glory.

Let his name resound on high!

The Lord is great; his praise shall last for aye.

Amen.

ALDEBURGH MUSIC CLUB

Aldeburgh Music Club celebrated its 60th anniversary year in 2012 and Britten's Centenary in 2013. The Club, founded by Benjamin Britten and Peter Pears, has evolved over the years into one of East Anglia's leading choral societies with approximately 100 members and 120 patrons. The choir rehearses on Tuesday evenings from September to May. We always welcome new singers. Our purpose is to share the enjoyment of making music to the highest possible standard. The Club organises three major concerts a year in which we are joined by professional soloists and orchestras, and is a regular visitor to Snape Maltings Concert Hall.

Our repertoire includes a broad portfolio of oratorio and religious music, opera, contemporary and commissioned works.

Aldeburgh Music Club is a registered charity and a member of Making Music.

Humphrey Burton is best known for his music broadcasting. Joining the BBC in 1955 he was, by 1965, the first Head of the new Music and Arts Department. He went on to be a founder member of London Weekend Television as Head of Drama, Arts & Music and later edited and hosted the arts magazine Aquarius. He returned to the BBC in 1975 to head Music and Arts again. He hosted Omnibus and then inaugurated Arena and the long-running series Young Musician of the Year. For the past 30 years he has combined freelance activity as a director of televised opera and concerts with work as an impresario, broadcaster and biographer. Now resident in Aldeburgh, Humphrey Burton is fully involved in music, nationally and internationally, whilst being an energetic champion of amateur music through the Aldeburgh Music Club.

Alan Britten had a long and notable career in the oil industry, followed by service as Chairman of the English Tourism Council. Throughout that time, he maintained his musical interests and was a regular visitor to Aldeburgh Festivals. From 1989-1999 he served on the Council of what was then the Aldeburgh Foundation, after which he was appointed President of the Friends of Aldeburgh Music, a position which he still holds. He is an Honorary Fellow of the Trinity Laban Conservatoire and a Board member of Trinity College London. As Benjamin Britten's nephew, Alan represents a direct link with one of Aldeburgh Music Club's founding fathers and we especially value his support for what he describes as 'one of my uncle's outstanding legacies'.

Over the following 35 years, he sang over 900 performances there. He left the company in 2001 to concentrate on larger roles internationally and sang many Britten operas in Europe and America. In concert, he has sung most of the standard repertoire, notably Handel, Mozart, Beethoven and Britten. Robin retired to live in Suffolk in 2011.

Support of every sort is vital for the success of Aldeburgh Music Club. This support could be in the form of helping with concert arrangements, or by becoming a sponsor or patron, advertising in our concert programmes or simply buying a ticket for our 'Prize Draw'. Aldeburgh Music Club is a registered charity no. 1000990.

If you are thinking of supporting AMC please contact our Honorary Secretary, Mrs Auriol Marson (Tel: 01728 602217), in the first instance.

PATRONS

By becoming a patron you can help to underwrite our concerts. Your name is listed (if you wish) in our concert programmes and you are invited to social events. The suggested minimum annual subscription is £100, or £150 for a couple, but we hope that people who are able to contribute more will be generous enough to do so.

Our Patrons Administrator is Peter Howard-Dobson (Tel: 01728 452049).

CORPORATE SPONSORSHIP AND DONATIONS

We welcome sponsorship and donations from companies, organisations and individuals. This may be in the form of support for a particular concert, soloists, orchestral players, publication, or more broadly supporting our concert and educational activities.

For further information, please contact the AMC Chairman, David Smith (Tel: 01728 638793).

ALDEBURGH MUSIC CLUB 'PRIZE DRAW'

Regular draws throughout the year to win cash prizes of £20 to £100. Of the money raised, 50% is donated to AMC with the remainder going into the prize fund. Tickets cost £15 and are valid for every draw during the year.

Tickets can be purchased from Anne Morris (Tel: 01728 452878) and Charlie Burt (Tel: 01728 454672).

ADVERTISING IN CONCERT PROGRAMMES

You can support the Club at the same time as promoting your business by advertising in our concert programmes.

Please contact the AMC Chairman, David Smith (Tel: 01728 638793).
